Mrs. Olivia Smith Cornelius, one of the leading women in social and literary circles of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Cornelius is widely related in the South, and has several times visited in Richmond.

SOCIETY

SOCIETY in Richmond, and indeed throughout the State, is much interested in the fact that Mrs. Harry Allen Cornelius has added her name to the list of Southern women who are winning fame in the world of letters. Mrs. Cornelius is very prominently related in Virginia, and on her mother's side is descended from the Pressers and Tabbs, of "White Marsh," the famous old Roanoke homestead in this State. Judge Rootes was President Madison's law partner and a very distinguished man in his day. He married the beautiful widow Tabbs, and "White Marsh" was the gathering place for some of the most noted wits and belles of that generation, many notable functions having been given to honor the famous guests who were entertained there. Mrs. Cornelius is a very handsome and talented woman, and one of the leaders in Pittsburgh society. Where she resides. Her book is already beginning its second edition, and the fact that the author has visited in Richmond on several occasions is of much interest to society people here.

Returned From Lexington. Misses Virginia Chesterman, Dallas Lee, Katherine Hagan, Mary East Saunders, Mary Johnson, Elizabeth Preston, Conway Fleming and Nettie Ruehrmund have returned to Richmond, after attending the finals at the Virginia Military Institute, in Lexington. Cadets Hagan, Morgan Smith, Foster Witt, William Royall, Edwin Conquest, P. Y. English and Collier have returned to their homes here for the summer.

James Gwatkin and a party of friends, who went to Lexington in an automobile, will not return for several days, motoring to places of interest in the valley en route for Richmond. They are accompanied on their return trip by William Jackson, who graduated at the institute this year. Nelson Ingram, Edward and Richard Saunders were among the Richmond alumni attending the finals in Lexington.

Miss Sarah Hamilton is the guest of Miss Diana Walke at her home in Norfolk this week, and was among the country entertained at luncheon at the Country Club on Thursday. The table was set with pink roses and covers were laid for six. Robert Tunstall, of that city, being host of the occasion. Miss Hamilton has recently returned from Alexandria, where she was the guest of friends for the Randolph-Hamilton wedding, which was one of the fashionable affairs of last week. Miss Hamilton was one of the bridesmaids, and several very pleasing affairs were given in honor of the bride party during their stay at the seminary.

Prominent Engagement. Judge and Mrs. George Edward Cassel, of "Cassellton," near Radford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathleen Montgomery, to Arthur Vincent Adamson, of Richmond. The wedding is to be celebrated some time in September. Miss Cassel is a very beautiful girl, and since her formal presentation to society has been very prominent in social life of the State. Mr. Adamson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Leary Adamson of this city, and is at present resident engineer for the Delaware and Hudson Railroad at Carbondale, Pa.

The engagement is of much interest to Virginia society, as both Miss Cassel and Mr. Adamson are descendants of old English families, and are well known in society of the State.

Week-End at Rapidan. Mr. and Mrs. Ebert Leigh, Jr., are entertaining a small party of friends for the week-end at "Piedmont," their country estate near Rapidan. Mr. Leigh left Friday afternoon in his machine for "Piedmont." Accompanying Mr. Leigh were William Jones, Ebert Leigh and Palmer Leigh.

At the Women's Club. While the quiet summer season has arrived at the Women's Club and the group which gathers around the tea table grows constantly smaller, the various committees are still hard at work perfecting plans for next winter, which promise to be fully up to the usual standard. Mrs. Lewis H. Blair has just completed a most attractive literary program, which is now in the hands of the printers, and the leisure committee promises many good things. They expect the return of several old favorites, and will also introduce well known speakers, who have not yet made their bow to the club. Miss Augusta Daniel has chosen as her subject for the Literary Class, "Great Books of the Nineteenth Century and Their Authors." Miss Daniel is busy collecting material for this large subject. A new feature in club work will be a morning class in current events under the direction of Mrs. Jackie Campbell, who is past mistress in the art of making her talks as interesting as they are instructive. The card tournaments will be continued on the third Thursday evening of each month, and the whist class on Saturday afternoon, the whole making a very full calendar, which will be inaugurated with the return of cool weather.

DOCTOR PRESCRIBES CUTICURA REMEDIES

Says: 'I Have Great Faith in the Cuticura Remedies Now that I am Convinced of their Wonderful Merits.'

"I wish to let you know of a couple of recent cures which I have made by the use of the Cuticura Remedies. Last August, Mr. of this city came to my office, troubled with a severe skin eruption. At first I could not understand the nature of the case until I had made a careful examination. I finally traced it to his occupation, as he was a painter and decorator. It was eczema in its worst form. It started with a slight eruption and would affect most parts of his body—highs, elbows, chest, back and abdomen, and would terminate in little pustules. The itching and burning was dreadful and he would almost lose his skin, trying to get relief. I recommended all the various treatments I could think of and he spent about fifteen dollars on descriptions but nothing seemed to help him.

"In the meantime my wife who was continually suffering with a skin trouble, and who had been trying different prescriptions and methods with my assistance, told me she was going to get some of the Cuticura Remedies and give them a trial. Her skin would thicken, break and bleed, especially on the fingers, wrists and arms. I could do nothing to relieve her permanently. When she first applied the warm baths of Cuticura Soap and applications of Cuticura Ointment she saw a decided improvement and in a few days she was completely cured.

"I feel no time in recommending the Cuticura Remedies to Mr. and this was two months ago. I told him to wash with warm baths of Cuticura Soap and to apply the Cuticura Ointment frequently. Believe me from the very first day's use of the Cuticura Remedies he was greatly relieved, and to-day he is completely cured through their use. I have great faith in the Cuticura Remedies and shall always have a good word for them now that I am convinced of their wonderful merits." (Signed) B. L. Whitehead, M.D., 108 Dartmouth St., Boston, Mass., July 22, 1910.
